Dear Dr. Sarika Garg,

I'm the copyright executive at the Global Academic Resources Integrated Service Branch Company of CNKI, and responsible for the indexing cooperation. I received your e-mail from my colleague. Apology for our late reply, because our office had been closed early for the Spring Festival Holidays and we just come back this week. Many thanks for your e-mail and interested in CNKI.

I have viewed your journal, Canadian Journal of Biotechnology, and we'd like to include it indexed in CNKI database (<http://eng.scholar.cnki.net>). Attached please find the spreadsheet of the licensed data (It's part of the Appendix 1 of our agreement) and agreement. Please kindly fill, sign and send them back to me so that I can promote the process of our cooperation. Besides, if you've any sample data in xml, xls or onix, it'd be very helpful to send us for test firstly

To index your journal in CNKI Scholar , we need to sign the Metadata Feed Standard Agreement firstly. And then we will test the sample data (XML, EXCEL, onix, either works) you send. Once it works, we need the publisher upload the metadata to CNKI FTP site and update regularly. After we received your data, we'll build a separate database for you, on the interface of which we'll provide the link to your articles to redirect our users to your page and increase your exposure. Meanwhile, I'll send you the usage report quarterly. Attached you may find the brochure also, from which you may get a further understanding of our platform.

If you have any questions about our platform or these files above, please feel free to contact me anytime.

Best regards,

Dr. Wei Lu

Hi,

On Feb 22, 2018, I have sent an inquiry on how to get a journal indexed in CNKI database. I haven't heard anything from you yet.

I will highly appreciate if you can kindly let me know the steps to be followed to submit the application for the journal to be considered for indexing.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you.

Kind Regards

Sarika Garg, Ph.D.

Hi,

We, Canadian Journal of Biotechnology (CJB), are interested in getting our journal indexed in CNKI database.

CJB is the first Biotechnology open access, peer-reviewed journal in Canada which is published by a not-for-profit organization 'Science Planet Inc'. We intend to promote the open access research and to reinstate the original purpose of scholarly publishing which is to disseminate knowledge widely. CJB's mission is to ensure publishing only the quality research monitored via a stringent peer-review process while keeping the access free to all science lovers.

Journal Information:

ISSN 2560-8304 (Online)

Frequency: Quarterly

Journal DOI: <https://doi.org/10.24870/cjb.2017>

Abbreviation: Can J Biotech

Digital Archiving: Portico

Indexing: DOAJ, Google Scholar, Ulrich's

We will highly appreciate if you please guide us through the steps to be followed to get indexed in CNKI database.

Thank you.

Kind Regards
